

Modified KISS Principle

Know the lessons' components.

Identify the media to be integrated.

Start slowly (based on your comfort level and that of your students) and later pick up the technological pace.

Show students where they can go for support.

